BETTY CALLAHAM APPOINTED STATE LIBRARIAN

Miss Betty E. Callaham has been appointed State Librarian by the South Carolina State Library Board effective July 1, 1979. Miss Callaham succeeds Miss Estellene P. Walker who retired as State Librarian on June 30. A native of Honea Path, Miss Callaham joined the staff of the State Library in 1961. She served as the Deputy Director of the Library from 1975 to June, 1979. Prior to this, she held the position of Director of Field Services from 1965 to 1974.

A graduate of Duke University, Miss Callaham holds master's degrees both in history and librarianship from Emory University. During 1979, Miss Callaham served as Coordinator of the Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services and will serve as an alternate delegate to the White House Conference on Library and Information Services in November. She currently represents the South Carolina Library Association on ALA Council.

Her past professional offices have included service as Chairman of SCLA's Public Library Section and also its Planning Committee. She served on the Advisory Committee to the South-eastern States Cooperative Library Survey.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONCURRENT RESOLUTION OBSERVES
CONTRIBUTIONS OF ESTELLENE P. WALKER

On June 6, 1979, the members of the South Carolina Senate, with the South Carolina House of Representatives concurring, passed a resolution commending Estellene P. Walker on her years of service as State Librarian.

The resolution reads as follows:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

To express the appreciation of the members of the General Assembly on behalf of the citizens of this State for the distinguished services rendered by Miss Estellene Paxton Walker and extends good wishes for a productive and rewarding retirement.

Whereas, Miss Estellene Paxton Walker has served the State of South Carolina since 1946 as Director of the State Library Board and as Librarian of the South Carolina State Library; and

Whereas, under the leadership and direction of Miss Walker; the public libraries of South Carolina have obtained a high level of development and the capacity to give good library service to the citizens of South Carolina, and county-wide library service has been achieved in all forty-six counties; and

Whereas, during this period the State Library has become a strong unit of state government, providing information, materials, and service essential to the efficient operation of the legislature, state agencies, and state employees; and

Whereas, Miss Walker has been instrumental in extending library service to the blind and physically handicapped citizens of South Carolina and to residents and patients in the State's correctional and health institutions; and

Whereas, Miss Walker has helped establish cooperative programs and an interlibrary network which makes the state's library and learning resources accessible to all South Carolinians; and

Whereas, through her leadership role in state, regional, and national library organizations, Miss Walker has brought recognition to the state of South Carolina and prestige to the library profession; and

Whereas, Miss Walker will retire at the end of June, 1979. Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring; That the members of the General Assembly express their appreciation on behalf of the citizens of this state for the distinguished services rendered by Miss Estellene Paxton Walker and extend good wishes for a productive and rewarding retirement.

MISS WALKER HONORED AT RECEPTION

A reception to honor Estellene P. Walker upon the occasion of her retirement as State Librarian was held the evening of June 21 at the South Carolina State Library. Approximately three hundred librarians, government officials, and friends attended the reception honoring Miss Walker at the end of her 33-year career as director of the South Carolina State Library.

To commemorate her years of service, artist Alicia Rhett of Charleston has been commissioned to paint a portrait of Miss Walker. The portrait, which will be placed in the State Library, will be unveiled at a later date. Both the reception and portrait were made possible through personal contributions of friends.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Documents Depository legislation: H.2349 is still on the House - contested calendar with three objections from Representatives John Bradley (R - Charleston County), Norma Russell (R - Lexington County), and Daniel Winstead (R - Charleston County)

Library Security legislation: S.334 was reported favorably by the Senate Judiciary Committee on May 2, was passed with one amendment by the Senate on May 15, and was sent to the House on May 16. The House invoked Rule 5.12, refusing to consider legislation referred by the Senate after May 1. S.334 will be up for House consideration when the General Assembly convenes in January, 1980.

A REMINDER

Public librarians are reminded of the meeting on State Aid and LSCA programs to be held on August 1 and 2, 1979, at the Carolina Town House in Columbia. Members of the South Carolina State Library staff will review use of the LSCA funds and State Aid, along with discussions of future plans. Representation at the meeting is a prerequisite for participation in FY '80 LSCA projects.

PROPOSED TEMPERATURE REGULATIONS

The June 1, 1979 issue of the Federal Register, page 31922, contains proposed regulations on emergency building temperature restrictions. The proposed regulations mandate thermostat settings of 65° maximum for heating and 80° minimum for cooling. Exemptions were proposed for certain environmental conditions, but libraries were not included.

In response to these proposed regulations, the American Library Association has requested that libraries and archives be specifically included in the exemptions section of the final regulations for emergency building temperature restrictions since special environmental conditions are required to protect essential materials and processes.

LABOR-HEW BILL PASSES HOUSE

On June 22, the U. S. House of Representatives passed the 1980 Labor-HEW appropriations bill (HR 4389) by a 327-84 vote. Listed below are amounts approved by the Appropriations Committee for higher education and public library programs compared with FY 1979 funding and the FY 1980 Carter budget.

	FY 1979 Appropriation	FY 1980 Carter Budget	FY '80 House Committee
Elementary and Secondary Education Act
Title IV-B (School library resources)	$180,000,000	$149,600,000	$162,000,000
Title IV-D (Guidance, counseling)	-0-	18,000,000	18,000,000
Higher Education Act
Title II-A, College libraries	9,975,000	-0-	9,975,000
II-B, Training	2,000,000	-0-	1,000,000
II-B, Demonstrations	1,000,000	-0-	-0-
II-C, Research libraries	6,000,000	6,000,000	6,000,000
II-A, Undergrad. Ed. Equip.	-0-	-0-	-0-
Library Services & Construction Act
Title I, Public Library Services	62,500,000	56,900,000	62,500,000
II, Construction	-0-	-0-	-0-
III, Interlibrary Cooperation	5,000,000	3,337,000	5,000,000

For most major library programs administered by OE's Office of Libraries and Learning Resources, the committee ignored the President's budget and restored funding to the FY 1979 level--with the notable exception of the HEA II-B library training and demonstration program which received only $1 million, a $2 million cut from the current year. Although the statute clearly states that two-thirds of the II-B funds are to go for training and one-third for research and demonstrations, the committee apparently intended the $1 million for training only.

Senate action will be necessary to complete the appropriation. On June 15 the Senate Labor-HEW Appropriations Subcommittee met to make recommendations on education and library program funding. Unofficial results of committee action include agreement with House committee action on LSCA, HEA II-B library training and demonstrations, and HEA II-C research libraries. The subcommittee recommended zero funding for the HEA II-A College Library Resources program. Subcommittee chairman Warren Magnuson is supporting a change to this program in order to focus on needy colleges. As usual, it is expected that a conference committee report and compromise action on differences between House and Senate versions of the appropriations will be required.

Dr. Peggy Sullivan, Assistant Commissioner for Extension Services of the Chicago Public Library, was elected Vice-President/President - Elect of the American Library Association. Currently a member of the ALA Council, Dr. Sullivan has served as President of the Children's Services Division, a board member of the Public Library Association, and Chairwoman of the ALA Publishing Committee. She will assume the office of ALA President at the next annual meeting to be held in New York, June 29-July 5, 1980.

HOW S.C. STACKS UP

The following was reported in the June, 1979 issue of Private Wire, a publication of the N.Y. Public Library.

Alex Ladenson of the Urban Libraries Council recently compiled 1979 data on State funding support for public libraries. This is the summary of his findings:

Summary

1. Forty-two states provide some form of state aid to public libraries.
2. Thirty-seven states provide direct state aid to public libraries.
3. Twenty-one states provide state aid to public library systems and networks.
4. Eight states provide state aid for the construction of library buildings.
5. The total amount appropriated in 1979 for all purposes of state aid to public libraries is $154,113,876.
6. This amount represents an average of 77 cents per capita for the entire country.
7. This figure also represents approximately thirteen percent of the total amount expended for public library service in the United States.
8. The largest amount appropriated by a state is $34,293,000, in New York.
9. The largest per capita amount for state aid to public libraries is $2.42 in Maryland.

These are the specific Per Capita State Aid expenditures for public libraries:

July 15 is the effective date for new size standards for envelopes, cards and other pieces of mail, and a 7-cent surcharge for oversized and odd-shaped mail. After that date items will be nonmailable if less than 3 1/2 inches high, 5 inches long or seven-thousandths (.007) of an inch thick. The 7-cent surcharge will apply to first class mail weighing one ounce or less and single piece third-class mail of two ounces or less exceeding any of the following dimensions: 6-1/8" high, 11-1/2" long or 1/4" thick.

The Calhoun plant of the Burlington Corp. and Bankers Trust of South Carolina each pledged $1,000 to a fund to renovate the Calhoun Falls branch of the Abbeville County Library.

Sites of future South Carolina Library Association conventions are as follows: 1980 - Columbia, South Carolina; 1981 - joint North Carolina/South Carolina associations convention - Charlotte, North Carolina.

ALA DRAFTS GOALS FOR WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE CONSIDERATION

The American Library Association is urging support of six issues which the association feels should be considered by delegates attending the White House Conference on Library and Information Services. ALA is calling on White House Conference delegates to:

Reaffirm the social value of libraries.

Recognize the responsibilities of several levels of government and the private sector to ensure adequate financial support for the library movement.

Foster library programs aimed at raising the national literacy rate.

Advocate a declaration of public policy to encourage the conversion of technology into useful products and services.

Promote national planning for the development, preservation, and conservation of library resources.

Call for the provision of intellectual and physical access to information in all formats for library users and the unserved.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE THEMES AND PLANS

The first national White House Conference on Library and Information Services will be structured around five themes ranging from helping people solve everyday problems to fostering international peace and understanding. The themes and other plans for the conference were announced during the American Library Association's annual conference in Dallas.

The Conference, to be held in Washington, D. C., November 15-19, 1979, was authorized by PL 93-5682 to "develop recommendations for the further improvement of the Nation's libraries and information centers and their use by the public." It is expected that recommendations of the Conference, which is being planned and will be conducted by NCLIS, will have a direct impact on formation of the national information policy and will result in specific legislative recommendations.

A unique feature of the Conference will be a Joint Congressional hearing based on the five themes to be co-chaired the morning of November 19, by Senator Claiborne Pell and Representative William Ford, chairmen, respectively of the Senate Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities, and of the House Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education. Also expected to participate will be Representative John Brademas, House Majority Whip and other members of the two subcommittees.

The five conference themes will relate to library and information services for: (1) meeting personal needs; (2) enhancing life-long learning; (3) improving organizations and the professions; (4) effectively governing our society; and (5) increasing international understanding and cooperation. The themes and issues to be discussed under each of the five major themes were drawn from the results of 57 state and territorial pre-White House Conferences, existing legislation, input from private and public sector groups in the library and information community, and special theme conferences sponsored by the White House Conference.

Other Conference plans include an outline of the process of delegate preparation and of the Conference "Theme/Center" exhibit. Among the materials the delegates will receive in advance of the Conference workbooks will be papers on the major theme areas, context papers on topics affecting all theme areas, and issue fact sheets consisting of a brief analysis of issues under each theme area. The Theme Center Exhibit, entitled "Bringing Information to People", will feature a fully functioning information setting to support the Conference delegates' work and a series of display clusters demonstrating the delivery of library and information services in various sectors of society.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

ABBE Regional Library: The Nancy Carson Library is sponsoring a poetry contest for children enrolled in their summer reading program. Each week, two winners in different age categories are selected from submitted poems. The winning poems are published every week in a local newspaper. At the end of the summer, reading program members will receive a booklet containing all submitted poetry.

Abbeville-Greenwood Regional Library: The library was spotlighted in Private Wire a publication of the National Citizens Emergency Committee to Save Our Public Libraries, a non-profit group supported by the New York Public Library. The newsletter cited a recent leaflet published by the Abbeville-Greenwood library publicizing the library's services and budget. The leaflet, entitled "This is the way we saved your money last year" emphasized that dollar savings to area residents amounted to more than eight times the out-of-pocket cost of library operations.

Beaufort County: Jeanette Parker, Assistant Children's Librarian, received a scholarship grant from the South Carolina State Library to attend a course in children's literature at Columbia College during June.

Clarendon County: The Manning Library was recently nominated for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places by the South Carolina State Board of Review. The nomination will be forwarded to the Department of the Interior for final approval. The Manning Library, built between 1909-10, was the first public library in the county. The library represents an example of a local interpretation of the classical revival style.

Colleton County: The main library in Walterboro is ending a renovation and expansion project. The library's work area has been moved into the garage, allowing space for expansion in the main building.

Dorchester County: Full library services are being offered in two new locations of the library. The library staff is now occupying the new headquarters building in St. George. The new branch building in Summerville opened on May 30. Members of the Summerville Public Library Association and other volunteers assisted in the move.

Florence County: The library's Outreach Department sponsored a "treasure hunt" for children, ages 6-12, to promote interest in the Lake City Library branch. Signs giving clues to prize locations were located in shop windows around the town. Each of the fifty prizes was a potted plant. The library recently published a brochure on business information resources compiled by the Area Reference Resource Librarian. The brochure, funded by a LSCA Grant administered by the South Carolina State Library, is being distributed throughout the nine counties in the Pee Dee region.

The Lake City branch of the library is offering a summer children's program on "Let's Find Out about the Library". Children, ages 7-10, will participate in six weeks of activities, including learning the alphabetical system used in library files, the Dewey Decimal system and use of the card catalog.

Georgetown County: The library sponsored a workshop on children's books for parents and librarians on June 5.

Lee County: Building tours of the newly-renovated quarters of the Woodward Memorial Library in Bishopville were held on May 31.

Lexington County: The library is sponsoring two "Arts-for-Elders" programs during June and July. Workshops on creative writing and poetry were conducted by Felton Eaddy, poet. During July, pottery workshops were held at the Batesburg Library. The "Arts-for-Elders" programs are offered by the South Carolina Arts Commission.

Orangeburg County: During June, the library exhibited a collection of South Carolina fossils from the South Carolina Museum Commission.

Sumter County: The library sponsored a multi-image slide presentation on astronomy on May 31. Mr. Jim Maxey, producer of the presentation, served as program narrator.

SUMMER READING THEMES

Summer reading clubs are in full swing in South Carolina public libraries. Some of the themes in use this year are:

Anderson County: Big Top Reading Club

Clarendon County: DISCOrama Reading Club (for ages 5-10 and "superteens", 11-15)

Darlington County: World of Science Fiction

Florence County: Vacation Readers Visit Children Around the World

Greenville County: Transportation

MEETING ROOM POLICY

A recent item of interest appearing in the June 11 issue of LJ Hotline concerned the approval of a new meeting room policy for the Forsyth County Library in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Some of the major points of the new policy are: no money may be charged or solicited; all programs must be open to the public; forty-five days is usually the farthest ahead the space can be booked; "Programs and exhibits may not disrupt the use of the library by others," and users must pay for any damage which their program causes. The stipulations are prefaced by this statement: "As a public institution dedicated to the free expression and free access to ideas presenting all points of view concerning the problems and issues of our times, all meeting rooms and exhibit space in the Forsyth County Public Library are available on equal terms for the lawful activities of all groups and persons, regardless of their beliefs or affiliations."

RESOLUTION COMMENDING ANNA KING

On June 20, 1979, the Richland County Council adopted a resolution commending Anna Davis King who retired as Director of the Richland County Public Library on June 30. A graduate of the University of South Carolina, Mrs. King received her library degree from Emory University. She had worked as Librarian at both A. C. Moore Elementary School and at Crayton School. In 1967, she joined the staff of the Richland County Public Library as Head of the Children's Department. She was appointed Director of the library in 1969.

The commendation reads:

WHEREAS, Mrs. Anna D. King has served Richland County for the past twelve years, devoting her energy and foresight to creating a truly impressive library system; and,

WHEREAS, through her tireless efforts the Richland County Library System has grown to include eight branches and many of the most sophisticated data information systems available, such as the New York Times data bank; and,

WHEREAS, during her tenure, Mrs. King's vibrant personality has infused many new concepts leading to the expanded use of libraries, has created a devoted and highly-skilled staff, and has presented Richland County with a gift which can never be fully repaid;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Richland County Council commends Mrs. Anna D. King for her efforts to cultivate the Richland County System to become the multi-faceted service to all Richland County residents it now is,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that she be commended for the excellent stewardship she has provided the Richland County Library System during her tenure as Director.

ABBE LIBRARIANS RETIRE

Two librarians associated with the ABBE Regional Library retired on July 1.

Maurine Lackey, Aiken County Librarian since 1969, has retired. Mrs. Lackey began her library career as Branch Librarian at New Ellenton in 1950. In 1959, she joined the Regional Library staff, serving several years as Head of the Extension Department. She will be succeeded by Nellie Smith, formerly Reference Librarian at the Aiken County Library.

Thelma Murtha, Head of the Technical Processing Department of the Regional Library has also announced her retirement. In 1958, she began her association with the library system when she was responsible for establishing the processing department for the new regional library. She was formerly on the staff of the Library of Philadelphia. She has previously served as Secretary of the South Carolina Library Association.

REGIONAL LIBRARY ASSOCIATIONS ELECT NEW OFFICERS
